rlin, July 23. The King has caused it to be noti-to all the Foreign Ministers, that having resolved to bent from his Capital some short Time, in order to w his Troops, and to examine the State of his Fortions throughout his Dominions, he defired that would address themselves, during his Absence, to Count de Podewils, his First Minister and Secretary e, and communicate to him such Dispatches as fall receive from their respective Courts. His Mawill be, nevertheless, informed of every Thing that will be, nevertheless, informed of every Thing that is, the Count de Podewils having Orders to commute such Advices as he receives, to his Majesty by test. The Regiments that were on their March to mp at Sentzen, have had Orders to return to their Post. We are altogether ignorant of the Reason of Change. His Majesty intends to go to Wesel, and a thence to Flancer, in order to confer with his thence to flanover, in order to confer with his innick Majesty.

Innick tout for Italy; his Highness has demanded or ner-city a full Power to act as he shall think fit; and up-this a Council was held at old Count Staremberg's, the Advices from Germany say, that the Provinces which Prince Charles's Army pass'd, cannot suffi-ly commend the exact Discipline observed by his ops, who were abundantly surmished with Forage Provisions where-ever he came. We hear the Dutch ops are on the March towards the Maine, and that

The last Letters from Hanover say, that the King of Great Britain conserved assistance as the Hanover say, that the King of Great Britain conserved assistance as the Massacra most proper for frustrating the Designs of the Measures most proper for frustrating the Designs of the French, and their Allies; but that it was expected that his Majesty would make a Tour to Hanover before his Return to England.

Dresden, July 21. The Crown Army in Poland is to be augmented to 10,000 Men, which they are now actually raising. The Report is revived again with greater Warmth than ever, that the King, as Elector of Saxony, will march 20,000 Men for the Service of the King of Great Britain. If this News be not absolutely certain,

Great Britain. If this News be not absolutely certain, there are a great many Circumstances that render it ex-tremely probable, fince we are assured such a Body of Troops have Orders to hold themselves ready to march, and the Officers are actually providing their Field Equipage. Our Generals also are struggling who shall be in Commission; and there is the strongest Emulation amongst our Regiments which shall March for the Queen of Hungary. Count shall be in Court of that Princess, is returned from Vienna, from whence he came lately to execute a Commission of the last Importance.

AMERICA.

Bollon, June 20. Tuesday last Capt. Collingwood arrived here in 16 Days from New Providence, by whom we have Advice, that some time in May past the gallant and vigilant Captain Frankland, Commander of his Majefly's Ship Rose, met, and had a very smart Engagement with two Spanish Privateers, viz. a large Schooner of 16 Carriage, and as many Swivel Guns, with 140 Men; and a Sloop of 10 Carriage, and 10 Swivel Guns, with 80 Men: The Engagement lasted from about 4 o'Clock in the Morning till Noon, when the Schooner sunk, and all the Men perished, which made a noble Dinner for such Fish as love Spanish Carcasses, The Sloop ran aground at the Metanzes, and had Abundance of her Men kill'd by the Rose, as they endeavoured to get on Shore.
These Privateers were sitted out at Havanna, in an extraordinary manner, against Captain Allen, in a Rhodetshand Privateer, and Capt. Wimble, in one from Providence, who have been very troublesome to the Spaniards.
Captain Frankland also retook three or four Prizes which the Privateers had taken in their Cruize, one of which and vigilant Captain Frankland, Commander of his Majethe Privateers had taken in their Cruize, one of which (a Schooner) he fent into Providence, but carried the others with him to Charles-Town in South Carolina, to which Place he was obliged to go, to repair the Damage his Ship fuffer'd in the Engagement; and when that is done, 'tis faid he intends to come here to have his Ship

We also hear by Capt. Collingwood, that Capt. Rouse, Commander of the Young Eagle Privateer, of this Place, had retaken from the Spaniards a small English Ship, which they had taken some time before in her Passage from London to Bermudas with Stores; and that Capr.
Rouse had loaded both the said Ship, and his Privateer, with part of the Effects found on board a large English
Ship that was cast away on or near Croooked Island, in her Paffage from Jamaica to Briftol; and, 'tis faid, Cap-

The State-Lottery-Office at Charing-Crofs, kent by Mr. Wilson, directly behind the King on Horf back, having been so remarkable these thirteen Years past, for the many and valuable Prizes there sold, shar'd, or regifter'd, renders it needless at this time to mention more than two, among to others, transicted at that Place in the last Bridge-Lottery, viz. No. 51047 and 22833, one a Prize of 50001. and the other of 100001. Which uncommon and continued Success, together with the Care and Fidelity there to be depended on, occasions an extraordinary Demand at that Office for Tickets, Shares, and Changes of Tickets, Swares, and Chances of Tickets, feveral People chusing, even tho' they happen to have already purchas'd at other Places, to register them with him. We hear that Schemes, adorn'd register them with him. We hear that Schemes, adorn'd with a curious emblematical Frontispiece, are given gratis to his Cultomers.
